U.S., Britain A-Units Eyed By Roumania

Approach Expected To Be Subject Of High-Level Talks

LONDON (AP) — Communist Roumania, already defying the Soviet Union's economic mastery, has made overtures to buy nuclear power reactors from the United States and Britain, qualified Western diplomats reported.

The Romanian approach is expected to be the subject of high-level American-British consultation.

Each of the Allied powers seems to be waiting for the other to make a first move before giving the go-it-alone Romanians a definite no or a qualified expression of interest. Nuclear power reactors in which the Romanians have shown an interest could manufacture plutonium for nuclear bombs.

Informants said an economic delegation led by Aurel Cimpeanu, secretary-general in the Romanian ministry of foreign trade, visited London early in April and told the Board of Trade its government would like to buy equipment for both a thermal and a nuclear power station.

The British reply by all accounts was discouraging. The Inter-Allied Coordinating Committee, which controls export of strategic material to Communist lands, embargoed such equipment in 1962.

Apparently a Romanian delegation to the United States is to be launched in August in the final tuneup for the first two-man Gemini flight late in the year of only three orbits lasting five hours to check systems.

Starting in 1965, manned flights will increase to four days, seven days and 14 days.

Late next year, test flights of an advanced Saturn IB rocket are to begin. The vehicle has essentially the same first stage as Saturn I but its second stage has much greater power.

Test launchings of the Saturn V are to start in 1967. Because of the rocket's great cost, the first astronauts to ride the mammoth vehicle most likely will be en route to the moon. Target date is 1969.

Lack Of Oil Interrupts Dust Control Program

The on-and-off city street oiling program was off again today because a Lisbon contractor failed to deliver material Thursday night, as promised.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vordrey said the Do-Mar Oil Co. of Lisbon promised to deliver oil to city tanks on E. 2nd St., but the material did not arrive. The contractor has supplied only 1,000 gallons to date. It was used Wednesday to oil Gardendale Ave. and a short stretch of Haywood St., Beechwood.

The summer dust control program had been scheduled to get under way last Monday, but repeated delays and emergencies held up the first delivery of oil until Wednesday. The last two of three storage tanks purchased by the city have been delivered to the E. 2nd St. lot. The three represent a combined capacity of 12,000 gallons.

The fight continues, however, with 540 absentee ballots still in dispute in Philadelphia and 377 of the same under fire in Lackawanna County. Also being argued are 1,000 votes cast in Philadelphia in so-called "blank spaces" on the voting machines in 13 wards.

U.S. Hopes Buoyed For Moon Trip

Space Craft Orbits In Initial Success For Lunar Project

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The first unmanned model of the Apollo moonship orbited the earth today, buoying U.S. hopes of manned lunar landings in the 1960s.

Dr. George Mueller, director of the nation's manned space-flight program, said the success "adds to our confidence in meeting our goal of landing men on the moon in this decade."

But he said many more launchings — in the Gemini, Apollo and several unmanned programs — are required before man sets forth on a lunar voyage.

A Saturn I rocket, which the United States claims is the most powerful in the world, hoisted the spacecraft into orbit more than 100 miles high Thursday. Both rocket and spacecraft launched were "Model T" versions of the more powerful, streamlined hardware to be used on the moon flights.

The spacecraft weighed only 17,000 pounds, carried no internal gear and did not separate from the burned out second stage. It was the same shape as the real thing — which will weigh 90,000 pounds — and proved that in combination with stand the jolting climb through the atmosphere. No recovery of the satellite was planned.

The Saturn I logged its sixth successful test flight in as many launchings. Saturn I, with 1.5 million pounds of booster thrust, is forerunner of the massive 7.5-million pound thrust Saturn V, which will launch moonbound astronauts.

Dr. Werner Von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center which builds Saturn rockets, said the next Saturn I firing, scheduled in August, will be essentially a repeat of Thursday's effort to evaluate systems.

An unmanned Gemini capsule is to be launched in August in the final tuneup for the first two-man Gemini flight late in the year of only three orbits lasting five hours to check systems.

Starting in 1965, manned flights will increase to four days, seven days and 14 days.

On Larger Scale

U.S. Pondering UN Role In Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are reported seriously considering the possibility of the United Nations undertaking a larger role in war-torn Southeast Asia than has so far been suggested.

This is one of the lines of action expected to be discussed when American policy-makers meet in Honolulu Monday and Tuesday to work out recommendations for President Johnson.

After studying the recommendations, Johnson may make some initial decisions on the U.S. course of action.

With the Communist offensive in Laos apparently slowed down, the air of urgency over the Southeast Asian situation has eased.

The Honolulu conference will take a long-range look at the problems of trying to secure peace and stability in Laos, Viet Nam and Cambodia, as well as discuss the immediate problems arising out of the Communist offensives.

Expanded military action by the United States is another of the possible courses to be considered. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in a speech a week ago that, if Communist aggression continued, the result could be "to expand the war."

Johnson announced the Honolulu meeting Thursday, saying the purpose of the Cabinet-level talks would be "to review the situation in the entire area" of Southeast Asia.

Officials said the talks would be secret, and that recommendations would be reported only to the President.

Secretary Rusk, after attending Prime Minister Nehru's funeral in India, is scheduled to visit Bangkok, Thailand, and Saigon, South Viet Nam, this weekend on his way to Honolulu.

Others who will participate in the conference will be Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. envoy in South Viet Nam; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

It is also understood that Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland, director of the Bureau of International Organization Affairs and an expert on U.N. activities, also is expected to take part.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson proposed in the U.N. Security Council last week that the United Nations might help in the Southeast Asian situation in one limited respect—to patrol the 600-mile Cambodian-South Vietnamese frontier to prevent further border incidents.

Woman, 2 Men Killed, Fourth Hurt

Victims Of Monaca, New Brighton And Raccoon Township

Two men and a woman were killed almost instantly this morning in a crash apparently involving three cars and a motorcycle on Route 18, about half a mile north of the main entrance to the Koppers Co. plant at Kobuta.

The victims were identified as:

Benjamin J. Lapinski, 46, of New Brighton R.D. 2.

William C. Clark, 55, of Monaca.

Mrs. Lucille Hoffman, about 56, of Raccoon Township.

Mr. Clark and Mrs. Hoffman were dead on arrival at Alliquippa Hospital and Mr. Lapinski was dead on arrival at Rochester General Hospital.

Injured in the smashup was Richard Riddel, 42, of Monaca, who was listed in "satisfactory" condition at Rochester General with injuries of the left wrist, left hand and left leg. He was on the motorcycle.

A Midland Heights resident, Harry A. Young, 50, also was involved in the mishap but was not injured.

The accident happened about 7:30 a.m., but details still were incomplete as Pennsylvania State Police from the Chippewa Barracks continued their investigation.

Dr. John A. Colavincenzo, Beaver County Coroner, said Young had stopped and was signaling a left turn into a side road leading to the Koppers plant.

Mrs. Hoffman had just taken her husband, Gomer, to work and was headed north on Route 18 to shop in Monaca.

Authorities said Mrs. Hoffman failed to stop and hit the rear of the Young auto and then careened into the southbound car driven by Mr. Lapinski in which Mr. Clark was a passenger.

The motorcycle then struck the rear of the Lipinski auto.

Mr. Clark, a widower, came to Monaca from Louisville, Ky., and officials were attempting to contact a son there.

Pool Girls To Need More Than Bikinis

GOP Rivals Lecture On Party's Ills

Rockefeller And Goldwater Wooing California Votes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller are lecturing Californians on what's bad for the Republican party as they stamp the state in hot pursuit of California's 86 votes at the GOP National Convention.

Goldwater contends Rockefeller's policies would be the "kiss of death" for the party.

Rockefeller says the party must remain "out in the main stream of American life rather than be pulled into an offside eddy by extremist groups."

The California primary on Tuesday will decide who will take that choice block of delegate votes into the convention starting here July 13.

Goldwater, campaigning in the Los Angeles area, said Thursday he's confident he'll win on Tuesday and if he does, "then I think there's no question that we can win on the first ballot."

Rockefeller, working in the San Francisco region, has not retreated from his stand that "things look bright" for him on Tuesday and that he will come to the convention with 400 of the 655 votes needed for nomination.

Goldwater accused Rockefeller of seeking votes in California "on the implicit basis of a threat to bolt the party" if he doesn't like the party's nominee. He challenged Rockefeller to pledge allegiance to the party's choice, whomever he may be.

The Arizona senator said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and Michigan Gov. George Romney have disavowed any part in a "stop Goldwater" movement.

"This now means that Gov. Rockefeller stands alone in his refusal to commit himself to support the party's choice," Goldwater said.

Rockefeller answered that it was understandable that the three were maintaining neutrality.

There'd always be a party for the children—there are more than 20 Kennedy small fry—and customarily they had presents for "Uncle Jack." Sometimes there were small presents for the children, too.

With that over, the adult Kennedys would gather for dinner and a quiet observance of the birthday.

One year, the Massachusetts Democratic party set up a fund-raising birthday dinner and Kennedy made an evening round-trip flight to Boston to attend it.

This holiday weekend, there will be no gathering of the clan at the seaside compound.

Six months and one week ago, an assassin's bullet killed Kennedy.

Mayor Wields Ax To Cut Brush At Soldier's Grave

Early this morning a man wielded an ax and a sickle to remove brush and small trees around the lonely grave of a Civil War veteran on a wooded point near West End School.

Police Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice looked twice when he happened by in a cruiser. Sure enough, the man at work in the post-dawn mist and chill was Mayor Merrill D. Hall.

The mayor explained later that some of the brush and weeds at the grave site had been cut down by street department workers, who also cleared a path to the tomb. But he thought more of the brush should be hacked down to offer a better view of the grave from the street.

Veterans' organizations always decorate the site as part of the general embellishment of graves in district cemeteries for Memorial Day. The grave is scheduled to be decorated tomorrow by Mrs. Gertrude Ward of the auxiliary of VFW Post 66.

John R. Williams, 40, of the Y. & O. Rd. told the patrol an auto sideswiped his car about a half mile south of Rock Camp this morning after 7 and failed to stop.

Officers said a wheel disc was recovered, providing identification of the vehicle, which apparently was damaged on the right side.

In a collision on Route 14 about three miles west of Columbiana at 4:10 p.m. yesterday, Linda Carney, 19, of Boardman suffered a possible neck injury and was taken to Salem City Hospital.

The patrol said she slowed for traffic ahead and her car was rammed from the rear by one operated by Wilma Wilson, 19, of 914 N. Market St., East Palestine, who was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Muong Soui is 110 miles north of Vientiane.

Judy Garland Is Taken Off Critical List

HONG KONG (AP)—Judy Garland was taken off the critical list at a Hong Kong hospital today, but the nature of the illness that put her in a coma for more than 12 hours remained a mystery.

"She looks very much better now," said American actor Mark Herron, her traveling companion. He added that she was now able to talk.

The singer collapsed Thursday at her hotel and Herron rushed her to the hospital in a taxi while Typhoon Viola was hitting the island city. She was given oxygen and other emergency treatment.

Herron said Miss Garland, 41, was suffering from "over-exhaustion." Earlier one nurse said she had a heart attack while another in the same ward described the illness as "poisoning."

The attending doctor refused to say anything about the nature of the illness.

Herron denied rumors that Miss Garland had taken an overdose of sleeping pills accidentally.

Miss Garland's sister, Sue Gumm Cathcart, 48, died in Las Vegas, Nev. Tuesday night, but Herron said Judy had not been told.

"We will tell her when the doctor advises us so," he said.

In Hollywood, Miss Garland's press agent, Guy McElwaine said she had been in the coma for more than 12 hours but he did not know the nature of the ailment.

"We're in the dark as much as anyone," McElwaine said.

Miss Garland arrived in Hong Kong Saturday after a stormy Australian tour. She was acclaimed in Sydney but heckled and booed during a one-night stand in Melbourne.

Plans were made to visit the Packard Music Hall in Warren for a performance by the Kenley Players when the East Liverpool Senior Citizens met Thursday at St. Stephen's Parish Hall.

The group will sponsor a rummage sale the week of June 8 at the Halpatie Building in East End. Charles Pritchett is president. Articles were read from senior citizens in Florida, New York and Canton, and there were four out-of-town visitors.

Mrs. Martha Canne was diningroom chairman. A total of 109 attended. Next meeting is Thursday.

King Elected Ohio's Head Of AFL-CIO

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Politics will be my job" as president of the Ohio AFL-CIO, said State Sen. Frank W. King after he beat incumbent David Kane of Dayton in an election for the $16,000-a-year post.

King, minority leader of the Ohio Senate from Toledo, was elected by a 3-to-1 margin Thursday at the windup of the fourth constitutional convention of the Ohio AFL-CIO.

"I am obligated to be very, very active politically," said King. "We want to be active to the point where we can be influential . . . in the selection and election of candidates, particularly in the legislature."

King, a member of both the bricklayers and teachers unions, said he will be a full-time worker in the presidency. He said he would decide in January whether to resign from the Senate. King's term in the Senate runs through 1965.

The new president said he intended to visit and work with Ohio's county political leaders.

"We will launch a concentrated voter registration drive," he said.

Telstar bring in former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, from England, and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt of Germany.

Part of the program will be devoted to the Kennedy Memorial Library, for which $10 million is being raised. The library is to be built near Harvard University.

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, the late president's mother, appeared Thursday night on CBS television to comment on pictures of her son and others of her family. CBS commentator Harry Reasoner said the pictures never had been shown publicly before.

The Post Office Department marked the birthday with the first issue of John F. Kennedy memorial stamps.

Stamp dealers and collectors converged in Boston, where the Boston Post Office will postmark the five-cent stamps "first day of issue."

The stamp bears a portrait of Kennedy and a reproduction of the eternal flame that burns at his grave.

In Washington, President Johnson paid tribute to his predecessor with a memorial service Thursday.

Then the President and Mrs. Johnson drove to Arlington Cemetery and placed a wreath of Red, white and blue flowers on Kennedy's grave.

More than 40 top government officials, White House aides and Democratic committee officers who served under Kennedy attended the 10-minute service in the state dining room of the White House.

Salem Man Wounded; Mystery Shot Probed

A Salem area carpenter suffered a wound of the leg when struck by a bullet Thursday afternoon in Steubenville, and police in the Jefferson County seat were still searching today for the wielder of the rifle.

Charles Hull, 36, of Salem, R. D. told officers he was at work on the Metropolitan Housing Development project in North Steubenville when he suddenly felt a pain in the upper part of his left leg.

Looking down, Hull told police, he saw the slug from a 22-caliber rifle lying on the floor. Hull was treated at the Ohio Valley Hospital for a slight wound, and later released. Police and others at the scene were unable to determine where the shot came from.

The poinsettia flower was named for Joel Roberts Poinsett, Secretary of War under President Van Buren.

Parking Bans Slated In 2 Areas Saturday

Parking will be banned after 10 a. m. Saturday in two stretches affected by the Memorial Day parade and program, Police Chief Americo Radeschi said today.

The restrictions will apply to Bradshaw Ave. between Walnut and Ravine Sts., where the parade will form, and on W. 6th St. between Jackson St. and the Diamond because of a program in front of City Hall. There will be no general ban on parking along the parade route, but motorists should keep their cars as close to the curb as possible, the chief said.

The five-day forecast indicates the temperature will be 10 to 14 degrees below normal over the weekend and even cooler early next week. This forecast indicates some rain Saturday night or Sunday and possibly Monday. None is forecast for tomorrow, although skies will be increasingly cloudy.

The cool front covered broad areas of the nation from New England to the Plateau region with some of the chilly air dripping into parts of the Southland.

It was freezing in parts of the northern Midwest and temperatures in the 30s and 40s were general in the North Central region, northern Maine and northern New York State.

Frost was indicated in sections of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan and in the lowlands of Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

The dome of the cold air which dropped temperatures far below seasonal levels was centered in north-central Canada.

For GOP Convention

Goldwater Has Nestegg Of Ohio Delegate Votes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona has a nice nestegg of Ohio votes in the mid-July Republican National Convention.

Thirty of Ohio's 58 GOP delegates replied to an Associated Press poll. Seventeen said they personally favor Goldwater's nomination and two said they lean toward him.

Of the remaining 11 who sent in replies:

Three favored the nomination of former vice president Richard M. Nixon and two said they were leaning toward him.

One favored the nomination of ambassador to Viet Nam Henry Cabot Lodge and one reported leanings in his direction.

One delegate said his presidential nomination choice is Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio, now a candidate for U. S. Senate.

One said his present leaning is toward Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

Two were undecided. One said it was too early to make up his mind. The other "undecided" said he would like to see the Republican delegation to the San Francisco conclave stick together and vote by the unit rule — that is that the entire delegation would vote according to the majority rule of the delegation caucus.

The Ohio delegation is pledged to Gov. James A. Rhodes as a "favorite son" on the first ballot.

The recurrent theme behind Goldwater support was that his nomination would give the voters a clear choice.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook of the 17th Congressional District, a leader in Goldwater's Ohio drive, put the Arizona case this way: "Because he alone of Republican candidates can give the American people a choice, strengthen the free enterprise system, give us moral leadership which we are lacking and he alone recognizes that the communists are our enemy."

A fence-rider who declared himself for Goldwater had this to add:

"I would support Goldwater providing he would choose Nixon as his running mate. This, I believe, would be the strongest Republican ticket and would have the support of all Republicans and Conservatives. Nixon would be a capable and experienced backstop."

Senate Unit Urges Cuba Exiles Be 'Encouraged'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee urged today that anti-Castro exile organizations' ties in Cuba be encouraged and strengthened "to maintain and broaden the fire of disaffection and eventual revolt."

"Castro and communism must be expelled from Cuba," asserted a report by a Judiciary subcommittee. "They will be buried the deepest, if buried by Cubans — on the island and in exile."

In issuing the report, Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said recent events indicate anti-Castro operations are entering a new phase and "the time has come for a meaningful infiltration of Cuba, and a concerted effort to topple the regime."

The report took issue with congressional advocates of a U.S.-supported Cuban government-in-exile.

But it advocated finding a formula for unity among Cuban exile groups looking to creation of an organization which "could authoritatively address governments, international bodies and public opinion, in the cause of Cuban freedom."

Although subcommittee member Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., concurred in the report generally, he said he disagreed particularly with the suggestion that U.S. policy toward Cuba is well-defined and clearly articulated.

"To include in this report a summarization of Cuban policy in the form of a blanket assertion of net progress is ill-advised and uncalled for," Scott said in a statement. "Our policy as to Cuba, in fact, is ill-defined, fumbling, and certainly not clearly articulated."

The subcommittee said the Pennsylvania State University will begin several evening technical programs for residents of the Beaver Valley area this fall.

The courses to be offered have been selected by a committee of Beaver Valley industrialists as being the fields where trained men and women are most needed. The industrialists met with officials of Penn State to discuss how the university might best meet the educational needs of the area and its residents.

A brochure with additional information and a detailed list of individual courses to be offered under the programs may be obtained by writing to Pennsylvania State University, 420 Union Trust Building, New Castle.

Salem Man Wounded; Mystery Shot Probed

A Salem area carpenter suffered a wound of the leg when struck by a bullet Thursday afternoon in Steubenville, and police in the Jefferson County seat were still searching today for the wielder of the rifle.

Charles Hull, 36, of Salem, R. D. told officers he was at work on the Metropolitan Housing Development project in North Steubenville when he suddenly felt a pain in the upper part of his left leg.

Looking down, Hull told police, he saw the slug from a 22-caliber rifle lying on the floor. Hull was treated at the Ohio Valley Hospital for a slight wound, and later released. Police and others at the scene were unable to determine where the shot came from.

The poinsettia flower was named for Joel Roberts Poinsett, Secretary of War under President Van Buren.

Crisis Perils India After Nehru Death

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A struggle for the government leadership left vacant by the death of Prime Minister Nehru threatened today to plunge India into political crisis.

Rivalry among candidates for prime minister threatened to break into an open battle which could do serious harm to the nation and Nehru's ruling Congress party.

The capital's newspapers devoted front pages to the cremation rites for the 74-year-old Nehru Thursday. But editorial pages were given over to somber reflections on the future.

There were demands that the Congress party settle its quarrels quietly and make a unanimous choice, to avoid feeding the fires of factionalism and separatism that kept Nehru from tearing India apart.

After Nehru's death, President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan designated Home Minister G. L. Nanda acting prime minister, to serve until the Congress party, as the majority party in Parliament, elects Nehru's successor.

A Congress spokesman said party leaders had not decided when to hold the election.

The leading candidates are minister without portfolio Lal Bahadur Shastri, Acting Prime Minister Nanda and Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari. Shastri was one of Nehru's best friends and has widespread support in the party.

GOP Policy On Civil Rights

The respected leader of the Senate minority, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, sees eye to eye with the leader of the majority, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, on the urgency of passing the pending civil rights bill. They are going to call for a vote to shut off debate in the near future.

This significant agreement by the two Senate leaders duplicates similar agreement that existed in the House of Representatives before passage of the civil rights bill there last Feb. 10. An Ohio representative, William M. McCulloch of the Fourth District, ranking Republican on the Judiciary Committee, teamed up with Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat, to lead the bill to a 290-130 favorable vote.

IN THE House showdown, after 125 amendments had been discussed and the bill given the benefit of a full and thorough hearing, Republicans joined with Northern Democrats to guarantee its success.

The same prospect now exists in the Senate. The civil rights bill is a Republican-backed legislative proposal, though put forward under a Democratic administration while Democrats have heavy majorities in both houses. The Republican party is officially behind the bill.

The Democratic party cannot put over a civil rights bill because of its Southern reactionaries. Republicans hold the key to the proposal, therefore, and it is the judgment of their legislative leaders that now is time to unlock the door.

Sen. Dirksen, playing the pivotal Senate role in this historic showdown on the federal government's responsibility for carrying out the intent of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, says there finally comes a time for decision on matters of principle. The time has come for Congress to affirm that the 14th amendment is in full force in all 50 states of the Union, he believes.

THIS IS Republican policy on the civil rights bill. Some have lost sight of it during the public debate, in which everything conceivable has been done and said to make it appear that responsible party spokesmen like Rep. McCulloch of Ohio and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois are up to the kind of dark things they are being accused of by the South's Democratic irreconcilables.

The men who are closest to the situation know better. They are sounding on informed members of the Republican party to know better, too.

Life In An Echo Chamber

This is a good time to observe and marvel at the echo-chamber effect of pre-convention presidential campaigning. The California primary, pitting two of the leading Republican candidates against each other, is providing a perfect setting for political tub-thumping.

Both Sen. Goldwater and Gov. Rockefeller are equipped with well-financed, efficiently organized campaign organizations. Their purpose is to do everything possible to drum up interest in their candidates.

Gov. Rockefeller has stayed in contention this long because he is personally able to pay the cost of this expensive project. His ideas never have caught on. Sen. Goldwater, wealthy in his own right, does not play in the Rockefeller league of high finance. He has something Gov. Rockefeller does not have, however—the backing of other wealthy persons interested in his views.

The trick in this kind of campaigning is to keep the candidate's name before the public in a favorable light. It is comparable with the trick of promoting a show business personality, which is done in much the same way—interviews, pictures, appearances at public functions.

All this is done in the hope of finally developing so much interest in the personality that a grass-fire of popular adulation will sweep everything. It is an uncertain, arduous and costly process. And in 1964 it has been given an extra fillip of frustration by the fact that there continues to be significant interest in Henry Cabot

Lodge, who hadn't said anything and hasn't even appeared on the stump.

And as if Ambassador Lodge didn't represent enough frustration, Gov. Scrantom of Pennsylvania, former Vice President Nixon and even Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine continue to be mentioned about as often as the candidates with the high-powered organizations, though they have no tub-thumping working for them at all.

Needed Examples

Improvement of the community is dependent upon action, not words, no matter how small or seemingly insignificant the action may be.

The city administration in recent days has set two good examples of the type of action required — one was replacement of the weatherbeaten sidewalk adjacent to the City Hall, the other, razing of dilapidated structures near the Newell Bridge.

There is an obvious need for improvement of sidewalks by property owners in many sites throughout the city, just as there is for long overdue destruction of some eyesores and for renovation of other deteriorating buildings.

It is hoped the administration's examples will spur private citizens to undertake similar steps.

If not, the administration should set itself another example — enforcing some regulations requiring maintenance of walks and buildings.

Survival Tactics

You have read and heard the dire warnings about holiday traffic hazards.

You have resolved to do your best to survive if you must go somewhere in an auto this weekend.

But you still cannot count on coming through this weekend alive and sound unless you have taken one special precaution.

Defensive driving . . . You must be aware of the probability you will be killed or maimed, if it ever happens to you, by some other driver, or some circumstance you could not control.

This is what a defensive driver always thinks about. He is looking ahead to all the things that might happen—a fool passing on a blind curve, or approaching the crest of a hill, a speeder, a careless driver who doesn't stop when and where he is supposed to stop.

Purely Personal

Summertime . . . when the living is easy and women take off most of their clothes to go to the grocery store.

When they make me czar of this country, highway speed limits will be posted like this: "Allowable range 35-55."

I am always impressed with the fact that one hour's drive in this part of the country can bring a complete change of scenery — even less than that in many localities.

Due to the way news is produced in spurts and flurries, I predict the hottest story of the moment — Communist gains in Southeastern Asia — will be colder than yesterday's funny paper by Independence Day.

The most discouraging thing about human behavior in this republic is our tendency to act as if everything were happening for the first time; as if we had no precedent for identifying the Gov. Wallace as a re-run of the anti-Constitutionalists who led the South to defeat a century ago.

Adlai E. Stevenson, our chief representative at the United Nations, continues to make the most of his spoken material, as he did in two presidential campaigns. Would-be public speakers should study his style, which I think of as sing-song crypticism.

My heart grows heavy when it happens — innocent people killed because cruiser policemen chased some panicky malefactor on a busy street. Was the chase north the life it claimed?

This is the year I have kept my agreement with the truck gardeners to the last dot and period: If they refrain from writing for this newspaper, I won't raise garden stuff.

The New York Times, which keeps track of everything, says the news from Ulan Bator, capital of Mongolia, is bad, because Red China may be planning a coup d'etat against the government of Premier Yumzhaglin Tsedenbal, who is sympathetic with Red Russia. This has become item 37 Tsedenbal, who is sympathetic with Red Russia. This has become item 37 on my worry list.

Fascinating items about the New York World's Fair keep piling up, like one about the shock of a foreign pavilion over paying $116 to two men for five minutes' work unloading three desks from a truck. Goggles like this are making some foreign exhibitors wonder if they'll come back next year.

The town most of us know best is Dodge City, where justice always prevails, the town doctor and the U.S. marshal are cozy with the leading lady vice lord, and no one ever demands an investigation.

Hoping To Spot A Dove

Labor Heads Denounce Khrushchev

By Victor Riesel

Some one extremely high in the U.S. government has issued orders to the U.S. Information Agency and to our embassies across the world not to broadcast news or propaganda, distribute literature, or cause disturbance in the Soviet Union.

This policy Victor Riesel has angered a group of men who don't usually anger quietly. The indignant men are leaders of American labor who recently spent considerable time formulating a declaration of principles denouncing Chairman Nikita S. Khrushchev and sharply taking issue with the State Dept. policy of aiding the USSR during its present economic and political chaos.

A statement critical of the Soviets was adopted by the AFL-CIO Executive Council last week in Washington. Although the council speaks for over 13 million union members, not a word of this has been flashed around the world.

IT WOULD HAVE great international impact, since it is a labor statement issued by American union officials whose counterparts in scores of lands are prime ministers, cabinet members or leaders of powerful opposition parties.

Such criticism is known to enrage Chairman Khrushchev and his presidium because it cannot be attributed to right-wing or conservative forces in the United States, which are traditionally anti-Soviet.

In the statement which is now official AFL-CIO policy, the labor chiefs warn that the U.S. must neither let its guard down nor permit the Sino-Soviet division to do "our work."

"In spite of the present relaxation of tensions," Khrushchev stubbornly persists in all the old Soviet positions," the document states, "which are at the root of the cold war."

"Through his current less abusive tactics, he seeks to spread illusions, confusion and division amongst the Western democracies, to lull them into a false sense of security and to facilitate his securing from the U.S. and free Europe the economic assistance the USSR so urgently needs."

AFTER DENOUCING as a "monstrous myth" the notion that world peace can be won by helping Communist dictatorships, the statement released by AFL-CIO President George Meany asserts:

"... At the very moment when it seeks American assistance, the Soviet government continues to spend more than $1 million a day to keep that 'distasteful nuisance,' Castro, in power. Moscow is training and financing his Communist agents for subverting Latin America, spreading hatred of the U.S. and sabotaging the Alliance for Progress Program . . ."

Recent agreements such as the Soviet-U.S. pact on cutting down production of fissionable materials, the labor leaders said, "do not prove that the Soviet government has dropped all plans for aggression." Therefore they urge that the U.S. should get some acts of good faith from the Kremlin.

"DIFFICULTIES now afflicting the Communist economies and the conflicts plaguing the international Communist movement provide a propitious moment for our country and its allies to initiate diplomatic, economic and political moves to eliminate the causes of world tension and to promote just and lasting peace," the labor resolution continues.

"Their statement should insist that the Soviet and other Communist regimes stop their efforts to subvert democratic institutions and governments. Let Moscow drop its opposition to self-determination for the German people and the peoples of the Soviet satellites and annexed lands.

"Let the Kremlin give the signal for tearing down the wall which shamefully divides the city of Berlin, stop supporting the Viet Cong guerrillas and bomb-throwers in Viet Nam and the Peking-Lao military attacks against the Laotian government, cease encouraging terror and bloodshed in Cyprus and fanning the flames of hatred and war in the Middle East."

Through the U.S. government did not distribute this statement, as it has with similar resolutions in the past, the AFL-CIO has its own facilities for making its viewpoint known to many governments.

THE LABOR federation's International Affairs Department, headed by Jay Lovestone — who is as much a bone in Khrushchev's throat as he was in Stalin's — makes it a practice to meet regularly with the labor attaches of some 20 embassies here. Last Friday, the foreign affairs section met from 9:30 a.m. to well past 2:30 p.m. at the Statler-Hilton in Washington and briefed diplomatic officials of other nations on U.S. labor's attitude towards Khrushchev's postum playing. Thus the reports went back to the heads of many foreign governments.

The labor leaders will now insist that the U.S. government let hundreds of millions across the world on all sides of the Iron and Bamboo curtains know what many Americans really think.

Goldwater Misquoted

By David Lawrence

He Didn't Propose Use Of Atomic Bombs

Sen. Goldwater certainly can point a finger of blame at the unfortunate reporting job that was done over the weekend in telling the world that he favored the use of atomic bombs against the enemy in Viet Nam when actually he never made any such recommendation or proposal.

For immediately after the erroneous reports were widely publicized, U. N. Secretary General U Thant issued a blistering attack aimed at Sen. Goldwater, and so did the Soviet ambassador at the United Nations, Nikolai T. Fedorenko.

What did Sen. Goldwater really say, and how did some of the press associations and newspapers report it? First, it's important to examine the stenographic transcript issued by the American Broadcasting Co. giving the verbatim answers that Sen. Goldwater made to Howard K. Smith on its program, Issues and Answers, last Sunday afternoon.

SEN. GOLDWATER had pointed out that the Red Chinese fighting in the Viet Nam peninsula have access to unlimited supplies plus those they have taken away from South Viet Namese troops. He declared:

"I would strongly advise that we interdict supply routes wherever they be, either by sea, or most importantly through North Viet Nam, Laos or Cambodia, and I believe this could be done in a way that would not endanger life and I believe it could be done in a way, after having consulted with the leading Red Chinese in North Viet Nam, to the effect that we are stronger. We don't want to occupy any part of Southeast Asia."

"All we want to do is get this little war over with, and get our boys home and have peace over there and tell them that we are going to bomb the bridges, the roads and so forth and unless they decide to stopping strategic deliveries over those roads and railroads, that we can step it up. I think those people understand what we would be getting at, and we should be doing it."

MR. SMITH then asked: "Now a lot of supply lines seem to run in on the Laotian border, in any case, through jungles and along trails. How could you interdict those?"

Sen. Goldwater answered: "Well, it is not as easy as it sounds, because these are not trails that are but in the open. I have been in these rain forests of Burma and South China. You are perfectly safe wandering through them as far as an enemy hurting you. There have been several suggestions made. I don't think we would use any of them. But defoliation of the forest by low-yield atomic weapons could well be done."

THE KEY sentence in Sen. Goldwater's answer about the various suggestions — including possible use of low-yield atomic weapons — was the following: "I don't think we would use any of them."

One of the press associations, nevertheless, carried a dispatch declaring that Sen. Goldwater had "proposed" the use of low-yield atomic weapons to defoliate the forest along the borders of South Viet Nam.

Sen. Goldwater has expressed resentment over the misinterpretation and erroneous reporting of his remarks.

IT WAS NOT surprising for the Soviet ambassador at the United Nations to denounce Sen. Goldwater as having "proposed" the use of low-yield atomic weapons in South Viet Nam and to call upon the United States government to condemn the Goldwater proposal.

It might be added that the Soviet ambassador to the U. N., who has suddenly become worried about a theoretical use of low-yield atomic weapons in Viet Nam, seems to have forgotten that just a few months ago his government constructed missile bases in Cuba, 90 miles away from the shores of the United States, and that from such installations it was possible for nuclear weapons to be used to destroy a large section of American territory.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

There is an axiom that politicians and school administrators should not be too concerned about letters to the editor because controversy is one thing they can do without.

But Mr. Raymond Watson's recent letter contains statements so far from fact that if left unchallenged could do children of the Beaver Local School District untold harm.

Mr. Watson served two 4-year terms on the board of education in 1946-53 and held, at times, the post of vice president and president. I believe as a board member he served as an honorable man and as best he could to serve the needs of the district. But in light of his experience, one is at a loss to understand how he can know so little about school functions of today.

Consider facts which can readily be authenticated at the County Courthouse or with state officials. Mr. Watson is concerned about the salaries of the executive head and other administrators.

There are in Beaver Local five fulltime administrators whose services cost taxpayers only $4,391. The rest of the salaries for them comes from the state foundation program, and if these jobs did not exist, that money would not be allotted to Beaver Local.

Mr. Watson could be reminded that during his time on the board the annual cost for local administration amounted to over $13,000 — compared to the $4,391 today — for the expense was not provided for through state subsidy then.

Mr. Watson suggests an executive head is not needed in this district, that such leadership can be had from the county office.

The board's minutes indicate that in 1948 — while he was a board member — an executive head was hired with a salary of $3,375, and that in 1949 the salary had been increased to $4,500, none of the money of which was provided by the state. The district was then an eight-year program.

The district is now a 12-year system with an enrollment double of 1949's and a staff of over 90. In Mr. Watson's time on the board, a dentist was employed at $2,700 of taxpayers' money — a service we can't afford now.

Mr. Watson, who suggests the use of county supervision, voted in favor of an action in 1950 recommending Beaver Local not pay money into the county office for it was believed there was capable and adequate administration in Beaver Local.

He also intimates undue pressure is used on voters by the and others in attempting to secure passage of levies for maintaining school standards. Mr. Watson was in office when two bond issues were put before the voters and at least two levies were approved. My name was not on literature which promoted the recent levy. The Association for the Advancement of Education deserves or, child, not criticism, for its work with the issue.

Concerning bus drivers and their buses — we transport at least 2,200 students over 1,300 miles daily in the 115-square mile district. It would not be practical or economical to have a central bus storage area or to leave buses parked overnight at the schools.

We place buses with drivers so that they can start runs at their homes without too much wasted time or distance on the routes.

When Mr. Watson was on the board, drivers were paid $90 a month plus $10 for storage, so it can be seen buses were scattered then, too. Today we pay only for driving—$130 a month —no storage or cleaning expenses. Neither can we spend $10 a classroom for athletic supplies or hundreds of dollars for band uniforms as was done in the late 1940's.

I believe Mr. Watson should extend the courtesy of thought to the present board that they extend to him, and reserve such intimation that the boards who have served after him have not been doing down-to-earth thinking unless he can prove it.

It would seem that words of dignity, courage, sincerity should be practiced before any preaching.

Council Hires Instructor At Midland Pool

Midland Council in an abbreviated session Thursday night, named Clarence J. Grimm of Midland as junior and senior life saving instructor at the Veterans Memorial Pool for the summer.

Grimm, who held the position last year, will be paid $100.

Mat Brozic, superintendent of the street department, reported that the pool is ready for opening on Saturday.

William Vinovich, council president, and chairman of the swimming pool committee, said that beginning June 15, the pool will be open from 10 a.m. to noon for instruction for children, and noon to 1 p.m., for adult instruction.

He said night swimming will begin at the pool June 16, and will be held each Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 9 to 11.

In other action, a request from Glenn B. Roberts, superintendent of community relations of the Crucible Steel Co., that the borough set up a regularly scheduled trash collection from vending machine places and eating places in the Midland Works, was turned over to the solicitor, Atty. Frank Suffoletta, for study and recommendation.

Councilman Steve Germusa reported many drivers are going the wrong way on the portion of Ohio Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts., which recently was marked for eastbound traffic only.

Council decided the section will be patrolled more closely until residents become familiar with the new regulation.

Vinovich presided. Next regular meeting is June 11.

36th Outing Set June 13

Traditional Events Slated For Pottery Union Picnic

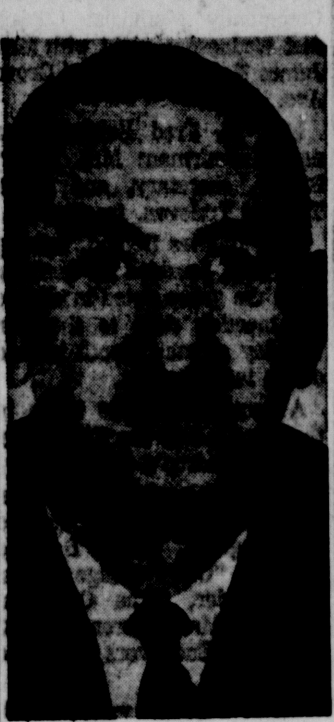

Two traditional events, a baby show and a junior bathing beauty contest, will highlight the formal program at the 36th annual Potters Picnic Saturday, June 13, at Meyers Lake Park in Canton.

The baby show, timed to begin at 1 p.m. in the resort's indoor dancing pavilion, is expected to attract a field of 250 or more.

Prizes will be offered in three age brackets — up to 1; 1-2 and 2-3. In each division, there will be a first prize of a $50 U. S. Savings Bond, with a $25 Savings Bond for second and $10 in Savings Stamps for third place. Each entrant will receive a ware baby set — a plate and a mug.

The junior bathing beauty contest, for boys and girls 4-7, will begin at 3 in the park's outdoor dancing pavilion. Prizes will be the same as in the baby show. Each youngster also will receive a gift. The IBOP picnic committee emphasized that entrants must be registered in advance.

Sponsors pointed out that East Liverpool is now embarking on its campaign as part of a nationwide effort to achieve the sale of $85 million in Israel Bonds during 1964. Israel Bond funds help in the fulfillment of Israel's plans for economic development, including increased irrigation and electric power.

Israel Bonds have provided large sums for Israel's economic progress since 1951. The redemption of the first matured Israel Bonds began last year on the basis of $150 for every $100 invested in 1951.

Welfare Dpt. To Be Moved

LISBON — Robert Bycroft, director of the Columbiana County Welfare Department, announced today that his offices will be moved to the O. S. Hill over the weekend and will be ready for business Monday in the new quarters at 117 E. Washington St., a block south half a block east of the Courthouse.

The hours will be changed and the department will be open each day Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., closing Saturdays.

The phone number will remain 424-7711, and persons are urged to use this number and not call the Courthouse.

The new offices are mahogany paneled and each has new lighting. Floors are being painted.

The quarters are on the west side of the building, with 6,000 square feet of floor space, providing 16 private offices and conference rooms, with adequate storage space for records of the various agencies. It will also house the county surplus foods warehouse. There is parking space for 20 cars.

Rental for the new quarters will be $300 per month with the state paying most of the cost — $100 from surplus foods funds and approximately two-thirds of the balance.

Whenever you prepare a meringue, whether it's the soft or the firm type, make absolutely sure that the sugar is beaten in until it is completely dissolved. This takes long beating; for example, a firm meringue shell made with six egg whites will need about twenty-five minutes of beating with an electric beater.

Bolton Reveals Ailes' Reply On Copters In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Republican Rep. Oliver P. Bolton of Mentor has made public a reply received from Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes to his inquiry into structural failures of U. S. helicopters in South Viet Nam.

Ailes told Bolton that such structural failures have cost eight American lives. The deaths occurred in the old "flying banna" helicopters, now being taken out of service there.

The secretary also told Bolton that the Iroquois UH1B Bell Helicopters, the type replacing the old CH21s, are being modified because one of them lost part of its tail assembly and crashed in Viet Nam last month. Three Americans and eight Vietnamese were killed in that accident.

Bolton had demanded an investigation of possibly obsolete helicopters being used in the southeast Asia action. He said he became "acutely aware" of the problem when a constituent, Pfc. Albert Laurence Shimek of Unionville, Ohio, was killed in the Iroquois.

The post will also conduct a Memorial Day ceremony at the cemetery Saturday at 9:30 a.m. with Robert Poynter, past commander, in charge, and will assist the Navy Mothers Club in the ceremony at 10 on the Chester Bridge for departed Navy servicemen. The post decorated graves in St. Aloysius Cemetery Thursday night.

In announcing the fines, Judge Reynolds said: "This man is broken financially and physically, and, in my opinion, he has been prosecuted enough."

Park Board Taps Chan . . .

Supervisor of activities at Thompson Park this summer will be Frank Chan, crew-cut, 33-year-old Potter reserve coach.

The Thompson Park Board, headed by Judge Louis Tobin, acted on the appointment recently and named Chan to the vacancy.

Bob Hedmond and Jim Harris, resigned Potter coaches, supervised the recreation at the park last season.

Short on funds, the Board named only one supervisor for now but realizes that two are needed to look after the busy plant, where the supervised recreation includes basketball, tennis, horseshoe pitching, and of course swimming.

Lou Yanni, a member of the Board, feels it will be a tough job for just one man to look after both the park activities and the swimming pool patrons. Yanni disclosed a new $600 filter has been purchased for the small swimming pool and is being installed for the season opening Saturday.

Chan, local product (ELHS Class '49) and Washington Jefferson College graduate, has been Potter reserve basketball coach for six years. He's an Army veteran and a captain in the Reserves.

Salary of the summer job will be $900, provided by contributions of $300 from the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, $200 by the Little Potters League, and an appropriation of $600 by City Council. Joe Walters is park superintendent.

Glenda Still Going Strong . . .

GLEND SIMMS, first Ohio woman's singles champion from East Liverpool, is still rattling the pins on the local bowling scene.

She pocketed $150 earlier this month for her 635 scratch series in the state tournament at Lima. Her comment: "It comes in handy."

Last Thursday at Terrace Lanes, Glenda rolled a lofty 614 scratch series while substituting in the Terrace Queens League. Only 25, she appears to have a bright bowling future.

Frasier Tough On Pitchers . . .

DAN FRASIER of Hookstown really sparked with Geneva College's baseball team this season. He either led or tied for honors in all batting departments and was one of the top catchers in the area.

The former South Side High star hit .414 in 16 games, rapping out 24 hits, including four home runs. Frasier is performing for New Brighton this year in the Beaver County League, switching his allegiance from East Liverpool's entry. He's a senior.

There were 8,649 fans in Forbes Field, but Philadelphia Manager Gene Mauch noticed a Face in the scoreboard.

So he protested.

National League headquarters now has a rather delicate decision to make.

Here's what happened Thursday night as the Phillies lost to Pittsburgh 6-5 and dropped into second place behind the San Francisco Giants, who defeated St. Louis 2-1 on Willie Mays' 18th homer.

Mauch protested as the Phillies came to bat in the sixth inning, complaining that he had spotted a face in the left field scoreboard. Mauch said it belonged to ElRoy Face.

Knowing full well that faces in scoreboards often steal signs,

Mays' Shot Puts Giants On Top

Mauch said this Face had no business there.

The Pirates' relief specialist admitted he was in the scoreboard.

"I went there just before the first Philadelphia batter came up in the sixth," he said. And, said Face, he had a reason for being in the scoreboard:

He was using the rest room facilities there.

The case now goes to the National League jury, Warren Giles presiding.

While the Phillies and Giants were exchanging place in the standings, the Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati played the longest game of the season—with neither team winning. It ended in a 2-2 tie, called because of curfew after 17 innings, and will have to be replayed.

Elsewhere in the NL, a suicide squeeze bunt by Nellie Fox gave Houston the tie-breaking run in a 4-2 victory over Milwaukee and the Chicago Cubs defeated the New York Mets 2-0 on Billy Williams' 11th homer and Larry Jackson's three-hit pitching.

In the only American League game scheduled, Kansas City capitalized on four Chicago errors and handed Juan Pizarro his first loss by beating the White Sox 4-1.

After the early skirmishing, including Mauch's protest, the Phillies took a 5-4 lead in the eighth on Roy Sievers' sacrifice fly. The Pirates tied it in their half of the inning on a homer by Willie Stargell, then won in the ninth on a walk to Jim Pagnoni and singles by Stargell and Dick Schofield.

Curt Simmons, now 6-3, scored the Cardinal run in the fifth inning on Curt Flood's double and had the Giants blanked on five hits until the eighth. Cap Peterson then led off with a walk, Fox' bunt with the bases loaded and the score tied 1-1 in Mays connected. Mays' shot was touched by a fan in the stands and the ball was knocked back onto the field but the umpires waved him home.

The Dodgers and Reds were scoreless until the 12th. The Dodgers scored two against Cincinnati starter Jim Maloney on his throwing error and a run-producing single by Tommy Davis. The Reds then tied the score in their half on run-scoring singles by Leo Cardenas and Johnny Edwards. It stayed that way until the 12:50 a.m. local curfew time ruled a halt.

loaded and the score tied 1-1 in the eighth scored John Bateman with the tie-breaker for the Colts and tagged Warren Spahn, now 4-4, with the defeat. Mike White's single accounted for the other two runs. Hal Woodeschick, who hasn't been scored on in his last 10 relief appearances, preserved the victory for Ken Johnson, 5-4.

The Cubs managed only two hits off Galen Cisco and Larry Bearmearth, but scored in the first on Lou Brock's double, his steal of third and an infield out. Williams' homer in the sixth gave Jackson, 6-4, additional working room.

The A's scored three unearned runs on the four White Sox errors and that was more than enough. Orlando Pena benefited from the runs and brought his record to 6-3 with John Wyatt's relief help. Pizarro now is 5-1.

Record Crowd Of 250,000 Expected

Clark Determined To Halt U.S. Win String In '500'

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Scot Jimmy Clark, world road-racing champion, will charge across the starting line of the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile auto race Saturday, determined to break a string of American victories going back to Howard Wilcox in 1919.

His effort may bring out the biggest paying crowd ever drawn by an American sporting event, upwards of 250,000.

Italian Dario Resta, in a French Peugeot, was the last foreign winner in 1916 before World War I closed the old 2½-mile racing oval for two years. The foreign factory teams never came back in force.

Clark smashed qualifying records in a new British-American hybrid car, a dagger-slim green Lotus built by Colin Chapman of London and powered by a new Ford special racing engine mounted over the back wheels. It's a much improved version of the car in which Clark finished a close second to Parnelli Jones last year.

Ford, in the biggest corporate effort to win the race in modern times, provided the new overhead cam engine to seven of the cars starting Saturday. Only Ford engineers have been permitted to touch the screaming beauties.

Rodger Ward, twice winner of the 500 and no worse than fourth in the last five Memorial Day classics, may have the biggest challenge to the three Lotus-Fords in a rear-engine Ford built by A. J. Watson, creator of six 500 winning cars, including Jones' 1963 Agajanian Special.

Ward was third-fastest qualifier and will share the front row at the start with Clark and Bobby Marshman, who reached 160 m.p.h. in practice with a '63 Lotus powered by one of the new Ford engines.

Jones had to settle for the second row in his aging Watson roadster. He had an alternate new rear-engine car, but it had bugs and was parked for this year.

Two other former winners in the field are A.J. Foyt, defending U.S. Auto Club big-car champion, and Troy Ruttman, the youngest winner in 500 history when he took the 1952 event at the age of 22. Foyt will be the No. 5 starter and Ruttman No. 18. Both will drive conventional Offy roadsters.

Ward will be starting for the 14th straight year, at the age of 43. Eddie Johnson, 45, will start for the 11th time in another Thompson-Ford.

Walt Hansgen of Bedminster, N.J., one of seven first-time starters, will be one of the senior drivers at 44. A noted sports car racer, he is rated a genuine contender in a new Huffaker rear-engine Offy owned by Kjell Ovale, San Francisco sportsman.

There will be nationwide television of the long, noisy show for the first time but it will be on closed circuit to about 175 theaters and arenas.

The speedway management reported record advance sales, which it never discloses. There are 155,000 seats in the mammoth grandstands and infield bleachers, and almost as many more speed fans swarm through the 537-acre grounds and sit on parked autos and trucks.

Locals Play Saturday

Friendly-Bowling's game with Aliquippa J. & L. in the Beaver County League has been changed from Friday to Saturday night at 6 at Patterson Field sports car racer, he is rated a here, Manager John Anderson of the locals announced.

The "Jeep" Wagoneer goes up steep hills, over rough rugged terrain and through snow and mud that leave other cars helpless. And around slippery turns that cause fishtailing and skidding, it hugs the road with traditional "Jeep" traction.

Park Board Taps Chan . . .

Supervisor of activities at Thompson Park this summer will be Frank Chan, crew-cut, 33-year-old Potter reserve coach.

The Thompson Park Board, headed by Judge Louis Tobin, acted on the appointment recently and named Chan to the vacancy.

Bob Hedmond and Jim Harris, resigned Potter coaches, supervised the recreation at the park last season.

Short on funds, the Board named only one supervisor for now but realizes that two are needed to look after the busy plant, where the supervised recreation includes basketball, tennis, horseshoe pitching, and of course swimming.

Lou Yanni, a member of the Board, feels it will be a tough job for just one man to look after both the park activities and the swimming pool patrons. Yanni disclosed a new $600 filter has been purchased for the small swimming pool and is being installed for the season opening Saturday.

Chan, local product (ELHS Class '49) and Washington Jefferson College graduate, has been Potter reserve basketball coach for six years. He's an Army veteran and a captain in the Reserves.

Salary of the summer job will be $900, provided by contributions of $300 from the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, $200 by the Little Pottery League, and an appropriation of $600 by City Council. Joe Walters is park superintendent.

Glenda Still Going Strong . . .

GLENDIA SIMMS, first Ohio woman's singles champion from East Liverpool, is still rattling the pins on the local bowling scene.

She pocketed $150 earlier this month for her 635 scratch series in the state tournament at Lima. Her comment: "It comes in handy."

Clark Determined To Halt U.S. Win String In '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Scot Jimmy Clark, world road-racing champion, will charge across the starting line of the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile auto race Saturday, determined to break a string of American victories going back to Howard Wilcox in 1919.

His effort may bring out the biggest paying crowd ever drawn by an American sporting event, upwards of 250,000.

Italian Dario Resta, in a French Peugeot, was the last foreign winner in 1916 before World War I closed the old 2½-mile racing oval for two years. The foreign factory teams never came back in force.

Clark smashed qualifying records in a new British-American hybrid car, a dagger-slim green Lotus built by Colin Chapman of London and powered by a new Ford special racing engine mounted over the back wheels. It's a much improved version of the car in which Clark finished a close second to Parnelli Jones last year.

Ford, in the biggest corporate effort to win the race in modern times, provided the new overhead cam engine to seven of the cars starting Saturday. Only Ford engineers have been permitted to touch the screaming beauties.

Rodger Ward, twice winner of the 500 and no worse than fourth in the last five Memorial Day classics, may have the biggest challenge to the three Lotus-Fords in a rear-engine Ford built by A. J. Watson, creator of six 500 winning cars, including Jones' 1963 Agajanian Special.

Ward was third-fastest qualifier and will share the front row at the start with Clark and Bobby Marshman, who reached 160 m.p.h. in practice with a '63 Lotus powered by one of the new Ford engines.

Jones had to settle for the second row in his aging Watson roadster. He had an alternate new rear-engine car, but it had bugs and was parked for this year.

Two other former winners in the field are A.J. Foyt, defending U.S. Auto Club big-car champion, and Troy Ruttman, the youngest winner in 500 history when he took the 1952 event at the age of 22. Foyt will be the No. 5 starter and Ruttman No. 18. Both will drive conventional Offy roadsters.

Ward will be starting for the 14th straight year, at the age of 43. Eddie Johnson, 45, will start for the 11th time in another Thompson-Ford.

Walt Hansen of Bedminster, N.J., one of seven first-time starters, will be one of the senior drivers at 44. A noted sports car racer, he is rated a genuine contender in a new Offy owned by Kjell Ovale, San Francisco sportsman.

There will be nationwide television of the long, noisy show for the first time but it will be on closed circuit to about 175 theaters and arenas.

The speedway management reported record advance sales, which it never discloses. There are 155,000 seats in the mammoth grandstands and infield bleachers, and almost as many more speed fans swarm through the 537-acre grounds and sit on parked autos and trucks.

The one on top is a world famous legend. The one below it is the same legend redesigned into an all new station wagon.

It has the deluxe interior appointments and comfortable ride of a fine passenger car . . . carries six big adults plus more luggage and equipment than you can imagine. It's powered by America's only automotive overhead cam engine, the high torque Tornado OHC . . . offers optional extras such as automatic transmission, independent front suspension, power steering and power brakes. But the all new Wagoneer is really a 'Jeep' vehicle at heart.

The 'Jeep' Wagoneer goes up steep hills, over rough rugged terrain and through snow and mud that leave other cars helpless. And around slippery turns that cause fishtailing and skidding, it hugs the road with traditional 'Jeep' traction.

The big reason is 4-wheel "Drivepower." All four wheels are power wheels instead of just two. Take a demonstration drive soon. You've never driven a car that can do the things this one can.

2 $100,000-Plus Races Top Memorial Day Card

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two $100,000-plus races—the Jersey Derby at Garden State Park and the Metropolitan Handicap at Aqueduct—head up the attractive Memorial Day horse racing program Saturday.

The 1 1/4 miles of Jersey Derby shapes up as a real horse race with a probable field of eight. It has drawn most of the second-flight 3-year-olds with Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Northern Dancer and his No. 1 challenger, Hill Rise, awaiting next Saturday's Belmont Stakes and The Scoundrel sidelined by an injury.

Nine handicap stars are headed for the one mile of the Metropolitan with the possibility that the starting field may number as many as 12.

Mr. Brick, recent winner of the Withers Mile at Aqueduct after finishing sixth in the Kentucky Derby, is the probable choice to take down the major share of the purse in the Jersey Derby. It'll amount to $81,455 out of a gross of $125,000 if eight start.

Three of the last four Belmont Stakes winners have come out of the Jersey Derby field. Celtic Ash, third at Garden State in 1960, and Sherluck, fourth in 1961, went on to take the third race of the Triple Crown while Jaipur won both events in 1962. And in 1958 Cavan ran fifth in the Jersey race and then spoiled Tim Tam's bid for the Triple Crown by taking the Belmont.

Mr. Brick, who'll be ridden by Bobby Ussery, will face a field composed of Ky. Pioneer, Knightly Manner, Chieftain, National, Determined Man, Roman Brother and Brave Lad. All carry 126 pounds.

Ahoy, unbeaten in three starts at sprint distances this year, picks up top weight of 132 pounds in the Metropolitan and will attempt a feat accomplished by only three winners of the stake. Only Devil Diver in 1944, Eight Thirty in 1941 and Grey Lag in 1923 ever carried such a heavy package to victory.

The Jaclyn Stable speedster also will be without his regular jockey since Howard Grant is serving a 10-day suspension. No rider has been announced for the colt. He'll give eight pounds to Chateaugay, 1963 Kentucky and Belmont Stakes winner and 14 to Saidam, who surprised with a triumph in the Grey Lag in his only previous start of the year.

Olden Times, a West Coast invader, gets in with 119 with Hank Moreno replacing Willie Shoemaker in the saddle. Shoemaker is remaining at Hollywood Park to ride another horse for Rex Ellsworth.

Smart, Choker, Bonjour, the 3-year-old Quadrangle and Red Gar are considered the other definite starters.

Bayer's 133 Leads By Two In '500' Golf

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A glance at the bank books of the leading contenders in the $70,000 Speedway Open Golf Tournament leads you to believe the war on poverty has advanced even to the PGA front.

While most of the big-money boys fight for par today just to avoid the cut after the third round, their poorer brethren—headed by George Bayer—are edging toward the $12,000 top prize in this fifth-richest sponsored meet on the current tour.

Bayer's last big payday came in 1960 when he won the St. Petersburg Open, and you can take it from him—that's too long between visits to your banker.

Now playing out of Incline Village, Nev., Bayer is ranked 48th on this season's money list with $5,275—no petty cash, but only a shade of Jack Nicklaus' earnings of $48,035.

At the halfway stop, Bayer was two strokes up on the field with a nine-under-par 133 — while leading cash collector Nicklaus was buried with a 141, in an 11-way tie for 42nd place.

Of the four pros knotted in second at 135, only two are among the top 50 in winnings—Bob Rosburg in 26th with $11,295 and Kel Nagle in 36th $6,787.

The others, rookie George Archer, the first-round leader, and Dean Refram, have had very few paychecks this season, but both hope to correct that oversight this weekend.

Bayer, among the last to finish Thursday, said trying to concentrate on a golf game while listening to two hours of carburetion tests by 33 race cars "is a rather unique experience — my ears are still ringing."

The cars went through the roaring run in preparation for Saturday's 48th 500 mile race. The tourney will be suspended Memorial Day and will conclude Sunday.

Nicklaus was critical of the PGA for going along with the one-day suspension idea and said he would not return for the tourney in the future if it continues to be played "under these conditions."

The field was trimmed to 94 pros and 10 amateurs for today's round, with Tony Lema, former PGA champion Jerry Barber and veterans Al Besse-link and Dutch Harrison out.

Mike Souchak, who could have stayed alive when his 145 matched the cutoff, withdrew with the sponsors' permission. He won last weekend's Memphis Open.

2 $100,000-Plus Races Top Memorial Day Card

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Two $100,000-plus races—the Jersey Derby at Garden State Park and the Metropolitan Handicap at Aqueduct—head up the attractive Memorial Day horse racing program Saturday.

The 1 1/4 miles of Jersey Derby shapes up as a real horse race with a probable field of eight. It has drawn most of the second-flight 3-year-olds with Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Northern Dancer and his No. 1 challenger, Hill Rise, awaiting next Saturday's Belmont Stakes and The Scoundrel sidelined by an injury.

Nine handicap stars are headed for the one mile of the Metropolitan with the possibility that the starting field may number as many as 12.

Mr. Brick, recent winner of the Withers Mile at Aqueduct after finishing sixth in the Kentucky Derby, is the probable choice to take down the major share of the purse in the Jersey Derby. It'll amount to $81,455 out of a gross of $125,000 if eight start.

Three of the last four Belmont Stakes winners have come out of the Jersey Derby field. Celtic Ash, third at Garden State in 1960, and Sherluck, fourth in 1961, went on to take the third race of the Triple Crown while Jaipur won both events in 1962. And in 1958 Can ran fifth in the Jersey race and then spoiled Tim Tam's bid for the Triple Crown by taking the Belmont.

Mr. Brick, who'll be ridden by Bobby Ussery, will face a field composed of Ky. Pioneer, Knightly Manner, Chieftain, National, Determined Man, Roman Brother and Brave Lad. All carry 126 pounds.

Ahoy, unbeaten in three starts at sprint distances this year, picks up top weight of 132 pounds in the Metropolitan and will attempt a feat accomplished by only three winners of the stake. Only Devil Diver in 1944, Eight Thirty in 1941 and Grey Lag in 1923 ever carried such a heavy package to victory.

The Jaclyn Stable speedster also will be without his regular jockey since Howard Grant is serving a 10-day suspension. No rider has been announced for the colt. He'll give eight pounds to Chateaugay, 1963 Kentucky and Belmont Stakes winner and 14 to Saidam, who surprised with a triumph in the Grey Lag in his only previous start of the year.

Olden Times, a West Coast invader, gets in with 119 with Hank Moreno replacing Willie Shoemaker in the saddle. Shoemaker is remaining at Hollywood Park to ride another horse for Rex Ellsworth. Smart, Choker, Bonjour, the 3-year-old Quadrangle and Red Gar are considered the other definite starters.

Churchill Downs' Treasurer Claimed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — J. Henry Watermann, 70, treasurer of Churchill Downs, died Thursday in a Louisville hospital.

Watermann started as a bookkeeper at the Downs in 1927 and though he was too busy to watch most races, he missed only one Kentucky Derby in 37 years.

He became treasurer in 1947.

Bayer's 133 Leads By Two In '500' Golf

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A glance at the bank books of the leading contenders in the $70,000 Speedway Open Golf Tournament leads you to believe the war on poverty has advanced even to the PGA front.

While most of the big-money boys fight for par today just to avoid the cut after the third round, their poorer brethren—headed by George Bayer—are edging toward the $12,000 top prize in this fifth-richest sponsored meet on the current tour.

Bayer's last big payday came in 1960 when he won the St. Petersburg Open, and you can take it from him—that's too long between visits to your banker.

Now playing out of Incline Village, Nev., Bayer is ranked 48th on this season's money list with $5,275—not a pretty cash, but only a shade of Jack Nicklaus' earnings of $48,035.

At the halfway stop, Bayer was two strokes up on the field with a nine-under-par 133—while leading cash collector Nicklaus was buried with a 141, in an 11-way tie for 42nd place.

Of the four pros knotted in second at 135, only two are among the top 50 in winnings—Bob Rosburg in 26th with $11,295 and Kel Nagle in 36th $6,787.

The others, rookie George Archer, the first-round leader, and Dean Refram, have had very few paychecks this season, but both hope to correct that oversight this weekend.

Bayer, among the last to finish Thursday, said trying to concentrate on a golf game while listening to two hours of carburetion tests by 33 race cars "is a rather unique experience—my ears are still ringing."

The cars went through the roaring run in preparation for Saturday's 40th 500 mile race. The tourney will be suspended Memorial Day and will conclude Sunday.

Nicklaus was critical of the PGA for going along with the one-day suspension idea and said he would not return for the tourney in the future if it continues to be played "under these conditions."

The field was trimmed to 94 pros and 10 amateurs for today's round, with Tony Lema, former PGA champion Jerry Barber and veterans Al Besse-link and Dutch Harrison out.

Mike Souckai, who could have stayed alive when his 145 matched the cutoff, withdrew with the sponsors' permission. He won last weekend's Memphis Open.

MG QUALIFIES FOR INDIANAPOLIS "500"

On May 16th the MG Liquid Suspension Special, driven by Walt Hansgen, toured the famous Indianapolis oval at 152.581 M.P.H. and nailed down a top position on the starting grid for this year's Memorial Day race.

In the history of fast motoring, fans from LeMans and Monte Carlo to the salt flats of Utah have watched the MG marque in action. On May 30th more than 300,000 spectators will see this classic octagon in its first competitive outing at the Indianapolis Speedway.

The MG Liquid Suspension Special was built for competition but one need not race to enjoy the fruits of racing. The same revolutionary liquid suspension that cradles our Indy racer cradles you in the MG Sports Sedan. Instead of conventional springs, shock absorbers and torsion bars, both the Sports Sedan and the Indy racer ride on liquid permanently sealed in rubber springs. The result is exceptional smoothness, less tire wear, better handling and braking. Test drive an MG Sports Sedan soon... you won't hit 152 M.P.H. but you'll use considerably less fuel and have room for four other passengers.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 15-year-old daughter is upstairs crying her eyes out. I told her I didn't want to hear any more about it and that I was writing to you. This is what happened: Marietta's boy friend called her on the telephone an hour ago. Her father answered. He told Gordy that Marietta was taking a bath and asked him to please call later.

When Marietta came into the living room her father announced that Gordy was supposed to call again, after she had time to get out of the tub.

Well, Marietta went right straight through the roof. She said it was vulgar, crude and horrible of her father to tell Gordy she was in the bathtub. Now she doesn't think she can face him again as long as she lives.

May we have your views?—BEDLAM CENTER.

Dear Center: It is not essential that everyone who calls on the telephone be provided with a detailed account of why the person wanted is not available at that precise moment.

It should come as no surprise to Gordy, however, that Marietta bathes. I don't see how this information could diminish her in his eyes. If she hasn't stopped crying by the time this appears in print, tell her to dry up and grow up.

Double Jeopardy

Dear Ann: We are three married children who need some advice.

Ma died 10 years ago. Pa bought a double cemetery plot and put one big stone in the middle. Ma's name is on one side of the stone and there is a space for Pa's name on the other side.

Three years ago Pa remarried. These last few months Pa's second wife has been after him to buy another double plot for the two of them. It is the only thing we have ever heard them argue about since they married.

We are trying to stay out of it. Of course, we talk among ourselves and think our father should be laid to rest beside our mother but we haven't said so. If Pa doesn't decide soon, he may need that plot sooner than he thinks. What should be done?—C.O.

Dear C.O.: It is customary to be buried beside the spouse with whom one spent the greater part of life.

Circumstances alter cases, however, so please suggest to your father that he and his wife discuss this with the clergyman who married them. The family members will then not be involved and the decision will be an objective one.

Ann Denounced

Dear Ann: I'm getting sick

and tired of reading that same old worn-out phrase in your column—"When you marry a divorced man you marry the whole package—the ex-mate, the kids, the ex's in-laws, old friends, and so on." You gotta be crazy.

I married a divorced man and there's nothing in my marriage contract that says I have to be bothered with any of the aforementioned kooks. My husband's ex-wife is a religious fanatic who reads the Bible with one hand and drinks gin with the other. Her children are going to be just like her.

American courts seem to have the insane idea that children are better off with their mother, even if she is a nut, so I say let her paddle her own canoe. And why don't you talk about something else for a change:—OUTSPOKEN.

Dear Out: It's easy to say, "Let her paddle her own canoe" but that canoe has your husband's kids in it.

If this woman is as nutty as you say, and if your husband is halfway decent, he will keep in close touch with his children. This means you are going to be "in touch" too, Madame—whether you like it or not.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

532 County Farms Used Conservation

LISBON — Agricultural Conservation Program practices were used on 532 farms in Columbiana County in 1963, according to J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

This compares with around 590 farms participating in 1962, and about 71,640 acres of farmland were treated by these ACP practices.

The total number of farms participating in the ACP throughout the nation in 1963 was again well over one million.

Under the 1963 Agricultural Conservation Program, conservation measures on county farms represented a total investment of around $150,000. ACP cost-sharing amounted to about half this much.

Practices where assistance was given established 200 acres of permanent vegetative cover, improvement of sod cover on 6,305 acres by the use of lime, contour strips established on 40 acres, two acres of trees were planted and permanent vegetative cover was improved on 354 acres.

Three farms were aided with construction of ponds to supplement livestock water supply. Thirty-six acres of woodland was improved by thinning and better forestry methods, 36,000 square feet of sod waterways were established to help cut down erosion and 27,000 square feet of vegetative cover was established around ponds.

Ninety acres of cropland was tilled to remove excess water, five acres were seeded for protection of diverted acres and three farms were assisted towards the building of pounds of wildlife.

The ACP for 1964 — the 29th program year — is well under way in Columbiana County and 400 farmers have already requested cost-sharing to help expand soil, water woodland, and wildlife conservation work needed on their land.

Bates said this year emphasis is being placed on the development of springs and seeps for livestock water and woodland improvement. Anyone who would benefit by one of these practices should file his application at the local ASCS office now to assure that it will be completed this year.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The last of Columbus' "big four" supermarket chains has fallen in line with a policy of remaining open on Sunday.

The A & P chain announced Thursday that it will join Big Bear, Kroger's and Alber's in operating most of its stores seven days a week. The supermarket organizations, which took the step one by one in the past few weeks, said it was necessary to meet the competition of discount stores which have sold food on Sunday for a long time, and now of each other.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter Hurdles Weight Plateau

When a dieter reached an exasperating plateau in which the pounds appeared to be glued on, her doctor warned: "This is where a lot of people chuck it all!"

What a wise doctor to toss her the challenge needed to help her hold on! He knows well the staying power required when the pounds refuse to budge.

This is the dieter whose neighborhood is buzzing about the kitchen signs she has placed on the freezer, refrigerator, bread box and cupboards: "25 Pounds Down — 55 to Go" or "Remember Size 18 Goal" and so on.

LAST FALL when this young mother decided to take determined action, her husband gallantly came forward with a reward system. For every pound lost she banks $2. Past the 50-pound mark, for each pound lost she is to receive $5. The money is to be used for a brand new wardrobe for her new, slimmer figure.

At the time she first reported, this young woman had lost 25 pounds and brought her weight down from 220 to 195 pounds. (When she waltzed down the aisle nine years ago, she weighed 130 pounds and wore size 12.)

Now to give her second report: "It is really beginning to be a battle now. For a whole month I just couldn't lose! But thanks to my doctor, my husband and mother, I didn't stop diating. Now I am on the road to losing again. Oh, how happy I am that I didn't chuck it all! "I now weigh 168 pounds, and I wear size 18 dress. The $110 which I've earned is in the bank drawing interest. It's all to be used for new clothes.

"One important factor: The doctor ran tests on me and now that I've lost part of the excess weight, I no longer have a thyroid condition.

"I FEEL wonderful I have so much get-up-and-go. I really enjoy my exercises. . . they have helped me to feel like a new person. I take a half hour of calisthenics. I also try to take a half hour bike ride or a walk. I feel so refreshed after riding, and I know that walking does me good, too. I'll keep you and your readers posted on my progress."

The young mother's dramatic success should be most heartening to overweights who have a glandular condition. With a sizeable fat loss, the glands can function more effectively.

The heroine of our story is now only 25. This means she can take all that exercise in stride. And she still has all the years ahead to be healthy and happy with her family.

A salute to her perceptive doctor and her encouraging husband and mother. And a special accolade to this young woman who has what it takes to triumph.

President Flies To Texas

Work For Great Victory, Johnson Tells Democrats

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson made a memory-filled journey today to Texas—and his high school of 40 years ago—after exhorting New York Democrats to work for a "great victory" in November.

Johnson flew here from New York in the early morning hours.

He had only two appearances on his schedule for a ranch weekend—one tonight to address the graduating class of Johnson City's Lyndon B. Johnson High School, where he was graduated in 1924, and the other to speak to University of Texas graduates in Austin Saturday night.

The President made his November victory appeal during a circuit of Democratic fund-raising functions in New York Thursday night. The finale brought 17,000 persons to Madison Square Garden for a two-hour program of entertainment and a Johnson speech.

Appearing at a $100-a-plate dinner of Young Democrats, Johnson said: "Start working tonight for a great victory for the Democratic party next November. And now give us your hand and your heart and your help."

Using phrases reminiscent both of Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, Johnson spoke of crusades and new frontiers.

The chief executive said that Democrats regard "politics and government as a crusade—not a chore." And he added, "I've come up here tonight to ask you to join that crusade."

It was Republican Eisenhower who talked repeatedly of a "Great Crusade" when he first won the presidency in 1952.

Johnson plucked a Kennedy-esque chord after saying that Democrats must look beyond pending civil rights and anti-poverty legislation and, in the future, "offer new programs to solve new problems."

"This is why," he said, "the Democratic party is the place to be—the excitement is here—the satisfaction is here—the frontiers are here."

It was Kennedy who talked of "New Frontiers" in the 1960 presidential race.

Johnson's first appearance in New York was at a dinner of the President's Club—an organization of 1,000 contributors.

The President circulated from table to table, shaking hands, but did not eat.

At Madison Square Garden, Johnson asked "for the support of all citizens to complete the work so nobly begun by our martyred president—John F. Kennedy."

"I ask you to march with me along the road to the future—the road that leads to the great society," he said. "This is the work of the Democratic party."

Samoan Fire-Dance Disaster Claims 10th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 10th victim of the Samoan fire-dance disaster in the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church last Saturday night died in a San Francisco hospital Thursday.

Fee Tafea, 26, a private policeman in San Francisco, had suffered burns over 90 per cent of his body.

Five died at the scene and over 100 were injured. Some still remain in critical condition. The fire started during a fire dance—part of a Samoan holiday celebration.

How close are you now to "wholesale" electric rates?

ESTIMATION OF INTELLIGENCE

A. Psychologic testing is highly specialized but it might be helpful to remember that the average 6-year-old can (1) tie his shoes, (2) distinguish between morning and evening, (3) tell what time school begins and dismisses, (4) repeat 4 digits. The average 7-year-old can (1) write a number of words, (2) distinguish months and seasons of the year and (3) repeat 5 digits forward and 3 backward. An 8-year-old can (1) name 6 months, (2) indicate another person's right and left, (3) classify in terms of similarity, and (4) read fairly silently but orally. Abstraction is a sign of intelligence. The average child under 6 years of age can do little or no abstract thinking. When asked, "What is an apple?" the reply is likely to be, "Something to eat." or, "It is round and red and you eat it." The average 7- or 8-year-old will probably answer, "It is a fruit." Questions that demonstrate ability to do abstract thinking will help determine the child's intelligence.

ASPIRIN

Q. Is it true that aspirin causes internal bleeding?
A. A small, perhaps insignificant, number of people have trouble after taking aspirin. This drug . . . aspirin is a drug . . . apparently causes stomach irritation in such persons, and the irritation may be accompanied by blood loss, sometimes in large amounts. However, the vast majority of people apparently tolerate normal amounts of aspirin without difficulty.

Be sure your next appliances are electric...and move still closer to the joy of Total Electric living!

You may already be only a step or two away from the greatly reduced rates available to you. The more electricity you put to work for you, the less it costs per unit! An electric water heater, for example, provides abundant hot water at a very low rate. It also reduces the average cost of running every appliance you own!

So make sure each new appliance you buy is electric. Clean, flameless electricity is the "way of life" of today . . . and tomorrow!

Free booklet gives details

If you would like to know more about Total Electric living, here's data on rates as they apply in your case... steps you should take to get low "wholesale" rates... a checklist to help you discover how close you may already be to Total Electric living.

This booklet is called Sooner Than You Think. For your free copy, phone us . . . stop in at any of our offices . . . or mail the coupon. Do it today!

OHIO POWER COMPANY is a part of the American Electric Power System. This system produces more electricity than any other investor-owned utility in the United States. It serves over 2300 communities in 7 states—Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Through coordinated management and operations, progressive engineering and research, the six member companies of AEP bring you low-cost power with greatest dependability.

How we constantly improve service while reducing your electric rates!

It takes a lot of people...and a lot of jobs... to provide your electric service. Over 12,000 skilled employees, some of them neighbors of yours, have well-paid jobs with the progressive system of which this company is a part.

Now new technology enables linemen to work on "live" lines (carrying up to 245,000 volts) barehanded. This results in savings in time and labor . . . and it means we are able to do these jobs without interrupting your service.

Our rates were never so low. This chart shows how the average cost per kilowatt-hour of electricity has been lowered 18% in the past 10 years, while cost of living has risen 14% in the same period... and we're dedicated to continue this trend.

Permit Of East End Post Suspended For 14 Days

The State Liquor Control Board, in decisions announced today at Columbus, ordered a 14-day suspension in the permit of an East End American Legion post and denied a request for a transfer of another permit from one location to another on Main St., Wellsville.

The board decreed a suspension in the D-4 (private club) permit of Alfred Wedgewood American Legion Post 374 at 1220 Pennsylvania Ave., on the grounds of "possession of devices in and upon the permit premises which may be used for gaming or wagering."

The board identified the "gaming or wagering" devices as raffle tickets and said they were found on the Legion premises Feb. 14.

The 14-day suspension will begin at noon June 10 and end at noon June 24.

The department rejected an application filed by Nicholas J. Rivelle, who listed his address as 1311 Main St., Wellsville, and sought to transfer a permit from 1317 Main St. to 1303 Main St.

It said it learned the applicant had not been a resident of the deadline for the expense reports, required of all candidates who sought nomination in the primaries, as well as from individuals and committees that supported or opposed candidates or issues.

Ohio for a year prior to filing for the transfer "and therefore is not qualified to hold a permit." It added that "departmental investigation discloses that subject applicant lives and works in the state of Pennsylvania and that the applicant voted in the 1964 Pennsylvania primary election."

The Liquor Board declared that its investigation showed "proposed permit premises are located in an area which is already more than adequately served with existing permit premises and that the location of an additional permit premises... would materially increase the existing burden of maintenance of law and order in the community."

It noted that the Wellsville police department objected to the application "on reasonable and well-founded grounds" that "this location is within 500 feet of two churches and there are already a sufficient number of permit outlets in this block."

Summing up, it said it acted because the approval of the application "would result in a substantial prejudice to public decency, sobriety and good order."

A rush was reported at the Chester Post Office where over 100 persons obtained the stamps by 11 a. m.

Postmaster Robert Edwards said many of the purchasers were older men and women who appeared to be buying not as collectors but as admirers of the late President. The Chester Post Office received 21,000 stamps with more on the way.

OFF THE RECORD

Junior Editors Quiz on ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: How can electricity both heat things on a stove and cool them in a refrigerator?

ANSWER: Electricity works in different ways to perform these two operations. In the electric stove, the electric current passes through coils of specially constructed wire, made of nickel and chromium and often called "nichrome." These coils resist the passage of the current although they let a certain amount through. This resistance makes the wire very hot. The wire is insulated with magnesium oxide and enclosed in a metal sheath, which, while it turns red hot, prevents spilled fluids from getting inside. An electric refrigerator works because an electric motor at the bottom (1) compresses a liquid "refrigerant", usually called Freon, and pumps it around the edge of the box through tubes (2). Pressure is reduced as the liquid enters the freezing unit at the top (3) and it turns into vapor which absorbs the heat, causing the refrigerator to grow cold. The vapor is carried down (4) to the condenser at the bottom where it discharges the heat, is turned back to liquid, ready to repeat the cycle when needed.

FOR YOU TO DO: Wet your hands and wave them rapidly about. Notice they will feel cool for quite a while. This is because liquids, when they vaporize into the air, carry off heat, just as the refrigerator cools off as the refrigerant vaporizes.

Eric Schwarzkopf of Hartford City, Ind., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of the Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Will Man Or Machine Run TV's News?

With all of the electronic computers being employed by TV networks for prognosticating election returns, it looked for a while as if TV commentators (live ones might become obsolete.

"Not so," says ABC's Howard K. Smith. "I believe we're better off now. Look at Hal Humphrey what happened in Oregon. The computers recorded so quickly, required more analysis by commentators. People wanted to know why it happened the way it did."

SMITH PREFERS to think that no matter how good the poll takers and their transistorized gadgets become, they never will be good enough to communicate directly to the TV viewers all of the Monday morning quarterbacking they'll crave.

"It's just possible that President Johnson could win all 50 states next November, and the computers might have the score all wrapped up before midnight. If that is the case, then the big story of the evening could be a feature commentary on what Luci Baines Johnson was doing. You need more of a computer to do that," Smith observes smugly.

In a sense, Smith and his ABC running mate, Edward P. Morgan, are out to win a race themselves. Elmer Lower, the network's new news chief, hopes they can depose NBC's Chet Huntley and David Brinkley as the reigning monarchs of the next conventions.

AT THE 1954 AND 1960 Republican and Democratic conventions, Huntley - Brinkley topped off the highest audience ratings, and CBS and ABC have been trying to catch up ever since.

Although Smith and Morgan are two of the most capable news commentators in the business and both ABC property, it never occurred to the network to team them up until last November.

Both men were pressed to emergency duty when President Kennedy was assassinated because they knew official Washington, and it soon was obvious that most of those four black days were to hinge on the Washington scene.

Smith and Morgan acquitted themselves so ably individually and as a team that somebody at ABC finally saw the obvious - here was the network's answer to Huntley-Brinkley.

TO GIVE THEM some warm-up practice, Smith and Morgan have been covering the primaries. Next Tuesday for the Rockefeller-Goldwater race in California, ABC's new team will have their desk at the Burroughs Corp. headquarters in Pasadena, so as to be next to the big computers.

From the New Hampshire primary through Oregon and Maryland, all three networks computed the winner so rapidly their commentators were caught sometimes with very little to say at first.

In the coming California contest, ABC, CBS and NBC probably are spending as much to give us the figures and analysis as fast as Rockefeller and Goldwater are spending to win the primary.

IF SMITH and Morgan shape up as strong contenders in this TV primary and the coming conventions, there is every likelihood that ABC will find a regular nightly TV spot for them.

Smith is willing. He has felt ABC has not used him enough since he left CBS to join it more than two years ago. His inactivity is a reflection of TV broadcasters' general timidity toward news commentary.

Despite Smith's optimism of the commentator's ultimate victory over the computers, this election year could prove to be the commentator's last stand on TV.

Unless the networks allow their commentators more freedom really to comment, the TV viewer will look at the home screen just to see who wins on the computer.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Dislike For Teacher Can Be Handicap

Occasionally a child has a strong dislike of his or her teacher. When such dislike is prolonged the child hardly can do best at school learning. In some extreme cases a conference with the teacher and principal results in assigning the child to another teacher. Dr. Garry Myers without trying to place the blame. But so much has been written and said about adjusting the school to the child that some parents grow unreasonable about this matter.

What often complicates the problem is that the parent tends to encourage the child in self-pity and to criticize the teacher in the child's hearing, without knowing all the facts, thus magnifying this child's dislike of the teacher.

FROM ILLINOIS a mother writes:

"Our nine-year-old daughter in the fourth grade is having a problem with her teacher this year. The teacher is an extremely nervous person and so is our child. The teacher is noted for doling out low grades and giving a lot of criticism to all pupils - not just ours.

"Because of this, our daughter has decided there is no need to do her job well or to try harder because it won't be 'good enough' for the teacher anyway. We have discussed this with the teacher and the principal.

"They say each teacher is different and we will have to adjust our child to this. So far, we can't find a way to do this, so she goes to school in the morning unwillingly and comes home in the evening very unhappy and crying more often than not.

"How can we help her to adjust to this type teacher since, apparently, the teacher won't change. How can we help her get over this 'I don't care' attitude so she will learn to care about school and try to study again (the first three years she was a B average student with a few A's—this year she collects C's and D's)."

MY REPLY in part.

From your letter I'm unable to advise you specifically. But since, as you say, you can't hope to change the teacher's ways, your remaining hope is to help your child try to find out what the teacher expects of her and then strive to measure up to this expectation; unless of course you place your child in another school.

"I'm sure you realize that this teacher has a good many other pupils and that her task of helping each child individually as much as possible is not easy. Even if you are sure the teacher is wrong in her ways, it will not help your daughter to encourage her to dwell on these matters; and for you to criticize the teacher in the presence of your child could do no end of harm.

Indeed, that teacher may have many worthy traits and ways, including her requirement of high standards of school work. Why not honestly play up these virtues to your child?

In the meanwhile, work on yourself and the child with your physician's help, to cultivate calmer ways in her.

Also try to find patient and skillful ways to help your child at home to read better, spell better and the like; and have her do her written homework more carefully and neatly. Perhaps, then, she will be able also to do better at her learning at school.

SEEK HELP FROM some experts. Read with her any hard assignments as in geography or history. If you cannot help her patiently, it might be well to employ a calm teacher to work with her for short periods several days a week.

Also look for strengths and good traits in your daughter and build on these. Be generous with honest praise when she does well.

My bulletins, "The Nervous Child," "Helping Child with Lessons at Home" and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.
